

Young learners meet young Leonardo

In the picture there is the model of a war machine invented by Leonardo da Vinci. It was a kind of balustrade. It was useless enough because at that time there were some balustrades already. The two reasons for inventing these machines were the following: to demonstrate the ability to build war machines and to study their functioning.